THE women's air race from the Pacific Ocean to Cleveland was saddened by the death of Miss Marvel Crosson, a courageous and admirable young woman.

For the present such races should be confined to men. Their death is less important.

When such a woman as Miss Crosson is killed, there is no knowing what brilliantly useful men and women may, in her death, have been deprived of their chance of life.

WALL STREET had a pleasant day yesterday. In the language of the Stock Exchange, the "high priced industrials were very sensitive to buying orders." To try buying them was like trying to catch a bird that flies up when you approach with salt, ready to put on its tail.

FOR instance, Joseph Toplitzky, of California, came to New York a few days ago, in time to tell friends to buy a certain stock. It has since gone up more than 100 points.

No telling what the Federal Reserve will do about that, perhaps make the call money rate 100 per cent.

BIG business grows ever bigger. The Gold Dust Twins, in the person of George K. Morrow, head of the Gold Dust Corporation, has taken over the United Cigar Stores Company. And with United Cigar Stores he gets a big interest in Schulte Cigar Stores.

DISTRIBUTION is the problem of the day, and better organization of great distributing concerns will be welcome.

Problems of production on a low basis of profit are solved. Distribution remains costly.

WITH the aid of a cathode oscillograph, St. Louis phychologists render visible the impulse, or "message," that travels along the nerve every time you move any part of your body.

YOU see a mosquito on the back of one hand. The brain through the nerves orders the muscles of the other hand to slap that mosquito. That message of commands, you are assured, electric in character, and multiplied in intensity 100,000 times, is

WARNS AGAINST USE OF PUBLIC SPRINGS, WELLS

City Water is Safe Health Officials Report.

DESTROY WELLS

Case of Fever From Impure Water Discovered Here.

Warning against the use of water from public springs and wells which are not under the supervision of the health board officials was issued by the department officials today following the discovery of a case of typhoid fever in East End.

The victim is John Earhart, who lives in what is known as Little England," near the Smith-Phillips pottery. An investigation by health board attaches leads to the opinion that the typhoid fever germs were contained in a spring located up Dry run, outside the city, from which Earhart has been securing drinking water. An analysis of this water by City Chemist C. H. Larkins shows it to be "unfit" for drinking purposes.

The health board recently ordered the public spring in lower Thompson park closed. Sanitary Inspector D. J. McKeever and a force of street department workers removed the pipe of the spring about three weeks ago and plugged up the hole in the rock from which the water comes. McKeever discovered yesterday that the spring had again been reopened and that water was being carried away from the spring by numerous persons.

Wells in Dry Run and a public spring in Jethro have also been condemned. The pump handle has been removed from the well in the former location.

The East Liverpool municipal water supply is constantly under supervision and contains no chemicals or impurities which are injurious to public health, health board officials claim. In answer to a report that a Northside resident had been advised by his physicians to refrain from drinking the city water because of its hardness, City Chemist Larkins today was making a test of water taken from the lower Thompson park spring to determine the lime content. It is argued that the water from this spring contains a much higher lime content than does the municipal water which is purfied at the filtration plant.

Health board officials plan to erect signs of warning at all public springs and wells which have been condemned to warn the public against the use of this water. A further outbreak of typhoid fever is feared if the use of this water continues. This is the first case of typhoid fever to be reported here for three years, health board attaches claim.

ESSEX PERMITS BARN YARD GOLF

ESSEX, Conn.—The blue laws have been smashed in this ancient river port where men-of-war were built in Revolutionary days and whalers in later years, and barnyard golf on Sunday afternoons has been permitted by the town officials, much to the amazement of other towns along the Connecticut river. For the present at least horse-shoe pitching will remain the sole legal Sabbath-day sport, and Essex will have a distinction unique among all Connecticut towns.

MILLIONAIRE SHOOTS SELF

Police Abandon Murder Theory in Sewickley Tragedy.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Police today abandoned the murder theory in the death of Frederic C. Schiller, 24, when his brother, William B. Schiller, jr., admitted that the young heir to the steel millions had telephoned him and announced his intention to take his own life. Young Schiller shot and killed himself Tuesday night.

Members of the family had intimated that Schiller might have been murdered since he had not been morose, although he had been in ill health for some time. After questioning the family, however, police said William had admitted that his brother had telephoned him just prior to the shooting at the family home in Sewickley Heights, near here.

Three months ago Schiller eloped with Pauline Lynch, a nurse in a Beacon, N. Y., hospital where he had gone for treatment. The couple was married in New York on May 18, last, and returned to Pittsburgh a few days later.

Plane Last Seen Over Azores Late Monday.

SEARCH WATERS

French Birdmen Ready To Start Friday or Saturday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—More than thirty-six hours overdue, the fate of Oscar Kaesar and Kurt Luescher, youthful Swiss fliers who were attempting a trans-Atlantic flight from Lisbon, remained uncertain today but as the hours passed with no news of their whereabouts, hopes for their safety were virtually abandoned.

Nothing has been heard of the airmen since they circled over a little town in the Azores late Monday. Orders have been sent out by the navy department for all vessels in the north Atlantic to keep sharp watch for the lost fliers, but no encouraging word has been received.

There is still a possiblity that some trans-Atlantic vessel, perhaps a small steamer unequipped with wireless, may have picked up the fliers in their collapsible rubber boat somewhere between the Azores and the Atlantic coast, but hopes for such a rescue diminished hourly.

Kaesar, 21, and Luescher, 22, were the youngest fliers ever to attempt a trans-Atlantic crossing.

By Frederick K. Abbott, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Aug. 22.—Undaunted by the latest trans-Atlantic flying tragedy which apparently has claimed the lives of the Swiss boy aviators, Oscar Kaesar and Kurt Luescher, Captain Dieudonne Coste, France's premier diving airman was at Le Bourget field today, awaiting the weatherman's "go" for a new attempt to span the ocean from east to west by air.

Cleveland Pair Surprised by Patrolman On His Rounds.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—(INS.)—Vernon Cook, 17, of Cleveland, an alleged robber, was shot and killed by Patrolman Frederick Fleischer, and the boy's brother, James, 15, surrendered while the two youths were said to have been robbing a local hardware store here early today.

The dead boy's body was taken to the county morgue by an emergency squad of police and the younger brother was taken to police headquarters where he was booked as a juvenile delinquent.

The two youths had entered the stoer through a broken door that had been temporarily covered with cardboard. They were ransacking the stock of the store when the patrolman noticed them while making his rounds.

The first bullet fired by the officer struck Vernon in the back and pierced his heart, instantly killing him.

James, the younger brother told police Vernon had just picked up a nickle-plated flashlight when they heard someone approach.

Flescher said he shouted, then, fearing that the shiny instrument he saw flash in the marauder's hand, was a pistol, fired.

GRAF'S JUMP TO CALIFORNIA IS POSTPONED

Adverse Weather Conditions Cause Another Delay.

START UNCERTAIN

Eckener and Navigators Study Weather Charts.

BY JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

KASUMIGURA AIR PORT, Japan, Aug. 23.—(Friday)—The departure of the German Graf Zeppelin on the third leg of its round-the-world flight was definitely postponed at midnight, by Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the airship.

Definite decision by the grizzled skipper of the world's only passenger air liner to delay the start for Los Angeles was taken after several hours of uncertainty, due to adverse weather conditions over north-eastern Japan.

The Zeppelin had been scheduled to leave at 10 p. m. (9 a. m. Thursday Eastern daylight time), but as the time drew near for taking the craft from the hangar weather charts prepared for Dr. Eckener and his navigators indicated dangerous weather conditions along the eastern coasts of Honshu and Horkkaido islands, and over the adjacent regions of the Pacific ocean.

Weather charts indicated that the storm approaching along the Hokkaido coast had the proportions of a young typhoon.

Despite increasing storminess of the weather during the evening a big crowd gathered at the air field in the belief that Dr. Eckener would take off and attempt to evade the worst of the storm area when he got aloft.

There was a vast field of glistening umbrellas upon which searchlights played with scintillating effects.

The sky was dark with low hanging rain and wind clouds. A light wind swept the field with a promise of harsher winds to follow.

With more than three score of

SENTENCE OF LORAIN MAN IS COMMUTED

Governor Cooper Frees Herman Boyer, Lifer.

JUDGE IS DEAD

Prisoner Returned to Pen in 1928 Following Escape.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Gov. Myers Y. Cooper today commuted the life sentence of Herman Boyer, Lorain county prisoner in Ohio penitentiary, to expire at once. Boyer was received at the big state prison January 19, 1914, after pleading guilty, in the Lorain county common pleas court, to the charge of having criminally assaulted his niece, then under 12 years of age.

Executive clemency was given Boyer, it was announced at the governor's office, in response to recommendations by the state clemency board and Attorney C. F. Adams, who, as prosecuting attorney of Lorain county, prosecuted the case against Boyer. The trial judge is dead.

The clemency board informed the governor that Boyer was transferred to the state prison farm, near London, May 18, 1918, from which place he escaped and was not apprehended until 10 years later.

Prior to his apprehension last year, Boyer obtained employment at Toledo where he was married in 1919. Boyer and his wife moved to Cleveland where, after he found work as a lather, they built a home.

"In the 10 years that Boyer was an escaped convict he lived an industrious, clean, honest life, so far as we have been able to ascertain," the board told Governor Cooper. "His wife is loyal to him and is waiting for his return, to again establish a home."

The board told the governor that Boyer's niece now is married and has children and that she joined in requesting clemency for Boyer. Board members declared that Boyer and his wife exchanged visits with his niece and family prior to his apprehension last year.

POTTERY CITY OMITTED FROM AIR ITINERARY

Rain and Electrical Storms Disrupt Schedule.

11 FORCED DOWN

Planes Hop Off From Columbus Early This Afternoon.

East Liverpool was omitted from the itinerary of the Ohio Good Will airplane tour shortly before the noon hour today according to news dispatches from Columbus, tour headquarters.

Curtis Makes Announcement.

Heavy wind and electrical storms over the southern part of the state today disrupted the tour, 11 of the 23 planes, taking part in the tour, being forced to the ground. Ten of the ships landed in a field east of Chillicothe and another was forced down about three miles west of that city. No accidents marred the landings.

H. G. Curtis, official of the flight, announced before the planes left Norton Field at Columbus early this afternoon that owing to a lack of time East Liverpool would be omitted from the original routing. The planes were to have flown over the pottery city at 3:40 o'clock this afternoon coming here from Alliance.

Forced To Ground.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Ten airplanes of the Ohio good will air tour were forced down in a field seven miles east of here today by a heavy rain and a sharp electrical storm.

All of the landings were made without accident, but the prearranged schedule of the state-wide tour has already been decoralized.

One plane, the Flamingo, made its way safely from Portsmouth whence the ships hopped off this morning.

Another plane, the Firestone Ship, was forced to abandon the tour yesterday at Troy, because of motor trouble.

This leaves seven of the planes

Huntington Girl, Minus Suit Frolics In River With Police

Bather Eludes Coppers for Hour Before Surrendering.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Leaving what police termed a wild party, Margaret Johnson, 20-year-old pretty brunette, strolled to the Ohio river bank in search of relief from the sultry heat of dog days and "corn" liquor.

Once on the shore of the beautiful Ohio, the ripples beckoned and Margaret slipped from her clothes and went swimming sans suit.

Meanwhile, telephone bells at police headquarters started ringing. 'There's a girl in swimming here without a bathing suit," complained a woman's voice, "and, there's a crowd gathering."

Three husky patrolmen sped to the scene, commandeered a row boat and rowed hastily to where Margaret was disporting herself.

Ensued a dialogue with policemen commanding Margaret "to come here," and Margaret daring the "law" to "come and get me."

Frantically, the policemen rowed to where Margaret had been a moment before. Then Margaret became just a flash of white skin and a sleek black head. She dived seal-fashion out of the officers' reach every time they neared her.

Once Margaret hid for 10 minutes beneath the boat's prow, while the husky officers sat baffled and wondered if the pretty young girl had drowned.

The chase lasted an hour. The unadvertised event threatened to attract a larger crowd than the heralded Chris Green-Betsy Ann steamboat race.

Proved Bigger Attraction Than Famous Boat Race.

It was an endurance contest with the cops puffing and blowing and a mermaid luring them on.

Finally, when the policemen were about to seek reinforcements, the said combination of "corn" liquor and exertion proved too much for Margaret and she was hauled into the john-boat and ferried back to her clothing.

"Why didn't you over turn the boat," someone asked as she was booked on a charge of intoxication at headquarters.

"Gee, I wish I had thought of that," she grinned.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS TO VIEW LISBON - ELKTON ROAD

Columbus Officials Coming Here Next Week to Look Over Job Recently Completed by Superintendent W. C. Neff.

LISBON, O., Aug. 22.—Representatives of the state highway department, Columbus, headed by Robert Waid, director, will visit Columbiana county next week for the purpose of inspecting 2.3 miles of mulch type bituminous roadway that has just been finished by County Superintendent W. C. Neff of Lisbon.

This is the first time such a type of road has been built in eastern Ohio, and is a section of the Lisbon-Clarkson road, or a continuation of the Lincoln highway east of Lisbon. It extends from the Y. & O. tracks to the 10-foot paved road into Elkton.

The mile of paved road is now being covered with the same type of material, and also widened to a width of 18 feet. The road is exceptionally smooth, and was built at a cost of about $7,000. Road crews under the direction of Mr. Neff worked in day and night shifts, and the two mile section was built and opened to traffic within two weeks time. The project has already been classed as the best road of the kind so far built in the state.

Are you giving your child the right chance?

The physical welfare of the child is being given much attention by school authorities.

Failure to keep up with class work and absence from school is probably due to nervousness and a run-down condition that may be largely attributed to a deficiency in red-blood-cells.

DO you not marvel when thinking of the inward physical workings of your child—bone, flesh, muscle and brain growing each day—building onward toward manhood or womanhood?

Rich, red blood builds and sustains

Of course it is the blood stream which carries the millions of tiny red-cells to all parts of the body. And it is the healthy, rich, red-blood-cells that does this building, warding off disease and making for strong and healthy bodies.

When a child's appetite wanes or he loses weight, the complexion becomes sallow or pimples and boils appear—then you instantly know that the inward mechanism is not working properly—that a good blood tonic is required.

S.S.S. builds sturdy health

In such cases S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It is made from fresh vegetable drugs—therefore will not harm the most delicate system. It improves the appetite and restores the red-blood-cells to normal; lost weight is regained; skin eruptions clear up and color returns to the cheeks.

Give your child the right chance to develop. You will not regret it in later years.

For more than 100 years, S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Crossing Protection

The well-known admonition to stop, look and listen before attempting to negotiate a railroad or an electric line crossing still holds good and should be followed regardless of the number of safety devices, warnings and other signals installed for the convenience and safety of the traveling public. As indicated by our mounting list of crossing accidents, there is just as much danger involved in dashing at high speed over an unguarded crossing as there is in placing too much dependence on gates, warning lights or other mechanical inventions.

Although the obligation to protect himself under all circumstances rests primarily on the individual, there also is a well-recognized duty on the part of the carrier companies themselves and the state as a social unit to provide adequate means to safeguard human life. A spirit of cooperation seems to exist among all agencies, and rightly so, to gradually eliminate those conditions which tend to increase casualty lists at grade intersections.

Word comes from Columbus that there are more than 7,000 grade crossings in the state that are entirely unguarded. Far too many to be sure in this modern age. A few years ago most of these crossings would not have been classed as dangerous, but today with an ever increasing number of paved roads, more complicated traffic problems, and faster and more frequent train service, such places present real hazards to the average motorist.

The state utilities commission, sensing the importance of this revelation to every man, woman and child in the state, has seen fit to call officials of railroads and electric lines to meet in Columbus for a discussion of this problem. It is hoped that an amicable agreement will be reached whereby the railroads and interurban electric lines will consent to install and maintain, within a reasonable time, the proper warning lights or signal bells at all crossovers now considered dangerous.

Whipped Cream

One of the things peculiar to American culinary art is whipped cream. It is a symbol of prosperity; cream costs more than milk and whipping cream costs more than coffee cream. It is the housewife's advertisement to the world that she is well fixed in the kitchen. Whipped cream is distinctively American.

Its uses have been carried to the extreme, a mistake which will eventually mean the end of the concoction. A calf given enough rope hangs itself; whipped cream given enough uses will smother itself in its own fluff.

In the course of an ordinary day, it may be found on the coffee in the morning, draped over the breakfast food, smeared on the noon-day salad, mixed into the dessert, heaped on top of the ice cream, spread on the pie, hidden away in the fruit cocktail and even floating on top of the night cap of hot chocolate. It is also found on the kitchen towel, behind the baby's ears and in Fido's hair. It is universal.

The present status of whipped cream is a horrible object lesson to little children and to grown men and women. When it was first discovered that agitation of heavy cream would result in aeration complete enough to cause a semi-solid substance to be formed, whipped cream was a much sought after delicacy. But, someone did not know where to stop and so much whipped cream has been foisted on the public that thousands of strong men groan inwardly every day at the sight of its snowy whiteness. It will eventually, no doubt, become grounds for divorce and justification of homicide. The moral is: Stop while there is still time.

Little Enough Business

A few days ago in Lynchburg, Va., two policemen cruised through the downtown streets in an automobile. Occasionally they drew up to the curb and invited passing young women to take a ride. Thus they were able to pick up nine young women, all of whom were deposited carefully at the police station and charged with loitering. Several had to spend the night in the lockup.

Any moral campaign carried out along such lines is doomed from the outset. The public cannot stomach policemen who decoy persons into automobiles and then tote them off to the jail house. A policeman's business is preventing crime and detecting crime, and when they take time out to cruise around in a motorcar spying on the public they are neglecting more important affairs.

It is said that the woman entrant who won the rocking-chair marathon out in Champaign, Illinois, making a record of 280 hours and thirty minutes, talked as she rocked. That may explain her victory. She probably was unconscious of the flight of time.

---

The two men who last week robbed the First National bank at Elk River, Minnesota, have been sentenced to life imprisonment, and two more who robbed a bank messenger of $7,400 at San Antonio, Texas, were arrested within an hour of the commission of their crime, the money being recovered. The game of crime is a losing one. It may work for a day, a month or a year, but sooner or later the criminal is bound to pay the price.

---

And now another wealthy Chicago married business man has been sued for breach of promise by a divorcee, who feels that $455,000 would compensate her for heartache and certain other alleged disabilities suffered as a result of claimed acquaintance with him. It's becoming positively dangerous to accumulate means beyond the ordinary.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Probably the three most unusual churches in the United States are three railroad cars, now being operated in out-of-the-way sections of the country for the purpose of bringing the gospel to scattered communities where there are no churches or which are unable to support a pastor.

In the early days of the United States the circuit rider was a familiar figure. Sometimes in a two-wheeled gig, but usually on horse-back, he traveled long distances to preach to the settlers at outposts of American civilization. Usually, he followed a more or less definitely fixed circuit, following an itinerary which would take him around a circuit of towns. A circuit might be so large and in so sparsely poplated a section that, what with slow means of travel, he could scarcely reach any given place on his round oftener than once in three months. Even today there remain many circuits, served by circuit riders, who bring the gospel perhaps once a month. The Methodists and Baptists have both been ardent supporters of circuits. The automobile has supplanted the horse in regions where roads are passable.

The three railway cars are employed by the Roman Catholic church. While they can not leave the rails and so have not quite the freedom of the old-fashioned circuit rider, still they can reach very remote communities. Railroad authorities are willing to cooperate with them. For example, a trunk line railway may cross a stretch of almost uninhabited country—desert, perhaps—where there are only lonely tank stations with ranches and camps hidden away in the hills miles away. A chapel car can be switched off at such a place and remain there a week or more while such population as exists materializes out of the desert and attends services.

Spur lines, not ordinarily used for passenger traffic, run into the wilds to lumber camps and mining camps. A chapel car can be attached to a freight train and taken to the camp. Sometimes it is possible to send out advance notices of when the car will arrive but, in the more remote places, this is not practicable. But a novelty is such a rare thing in wild places that news travels with astonishing rapidity and the arrival of the strange chapel is somehow widely bruited.

The three chapel cars are all named—St. Peter, St. Paul, and St. Anthony. Each is built to simulate as nearly as possible the appearance of a chapel. In place of the ordinary day-coach seats, there are seats of the same size and arrangement but designed to look like pews. The Gothic motif is used so far as practicable in the design of the interior trim of the cars. About two-thirds of the chapel section of the cars is given over to the pews. The rest is ingeniously designated to simulate the altar end of a church. Each car has its altar, confessional, the stations of the Cross, and even an organ.

Inasmuch as the very idea of the cars is to go to such places as have no priests, a priest travels with each car. A compartment of the car is fitted up especially as his study where he may have his library, prepare his sermons, and perform his various other duties.

These cars are operated by the Extension Society of the Catholic church, an organization of a missionary nature, similar to the missionary societies of Protestant churches. The cost of maintaining each car is $2,000 a year.

The United States government has many specially fitted railway cars. One of the most interesting types is that used for the transportation of live fish for planting. The bureau of fisheries maintains cars, especially fitted with tanks and temperature regulating devices, so that young fish may be taken almost any distance and released to stock lakes and streams without impairment of their health.

The bureau of public roads, in the course of instructing local communities in the proper method of road construction, has operated entire trains loaded with road-building machinery which has been unloaded at some point on its itinerary, roads graded properly, rock crushed, rolled, and a sample stretch completed; whereupon the machinery has been reloaded and the train moved on to its next stop.

Everybody—at least every small boy or man who has been one—knows the mysteries of the circus train. Then, there is a company which operates a system of railroad cars for horses. These are used almost exclusively for the transportation of race horses from one track to another during the racing season. Every facility is provided for the care of the valuable animals. They travel in luxury—indeed the cars are called palace horse cars.

The motor truck has been utilized widely. There are many traveling libraries, bookstores, and stores carrying miscellaneous ware, the modern successors of the old pack-peddler.

Questions and Answers.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Q. When was the Woolworth building built? H. H.

A. The foundations of the Woolworth building were laid on November 15, 1911, and the tower was completed in July, 1912. The estimated cost of the building was $12,000,000.

Q. What is a Columbarium? G. S. M.

A. The word columbarium is derived from the Latin word columba meaning a dove. The word was originally applied to rows of niches in the walls of sepulchral chambers in Roman burial places from their fancied resemblance to the dovecote. Eventually the name was applied to the chamber itself, hence its use at the present time.

Q. What causes evaporation of water? L. J. C.

A. Water evaporates when it is exposed to air or heat. There is a constant movement of molecules of the water. Their average velocity is constant at a given temperature but the individual velocity of the molecules varies greatly, and changes from instant to instant. This variation is due to the frequent impact between the molecules. Those which are near the surface of the liquid and which have high velocities escape from it into the air above, causing the phenomenon which we know as evaporation.

Q. I understand that the Chinese regard a certain type of bird's nest as a delicacy. What appearance does this have? B. N. S.

A. You probably refer to the nest of the selangane or of related species of swift or swiftest of the Malay Archipelago. It has the shape and size of half a teacup, is attached to the rock in the interior of a cave, and has the appearance of fibrous gelatine or isinglass. It is composed of a mucilaginous substance secreted by special glands, and is not, as was formerly thought, made from a glutinous seaweed.

Ritzy Rosalie

The popular cartoon idea of a country grocery store always includes a couple of old men sitting on soap boxes playing checkers. Now someone has glorified the idea somewhat, and Rosalie found a very attractive soap box which holds two cakes of soap, the cover of which is a miniature checkerboard. It is intended for traveling, and besides the two cakes of soap there is room for tiny flat checkers and tiny leather cups with tinier dice. Another novelty which Rosalie has in the soap box line is a box decorated with a clown's head. When the traylike lower portion is slid out to its limit the clown's face, which operates on the same slide, assumes a sorrowful expression. The third soap box shown is a zoo omnibus, and the four passengers are four cakes of soap bearing animal's heads. This package is for children, of course, and Rosalie got it for her two nieces.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Metropolitan congestion has spawned a new and odd profession that may soon become a part of the correspondent school curriculum. It is known as "clocking" and requires no office, no personality what ever and only a rudimentary education.

It pays from $50 to $100 a week. All the equipment a clocker needs are rain coat, rubbers, an eye for preciseness, and a calloused thumb. Clockers work chiefly for chain store magnates, and it is their job to flush out suitable spots for branch stores.

Branch stores are located by the science of mathematics. Even a busy corner may be a poor place for a certain type of shop, and a lonely neighborhood the ideal spot for another sort. The clocker's job is to tabulate the crowds and characteristics.

A new store, obviously, is opened up where patronage may be expected at a given location. The antiquated method of "trying out" a neighborhood is as dead as King Tut.

The clocker stands on street corners early and late with one hand in a side pocket working a clock—a compact recording device which is a sort of cousin to a stop watch. He counts autos, men, women and children—and the proportionate number of each in a given period.

He can tell neighborhood shoppers instantly, as the result of a practised eye, from men and women who are merely on their way to terminals or other passenger conveyances. He knows a couple wearing evening clothes in an important limousine are not likely to stop at a chain grocery.

Merely counting passers-by will not suffice. A woman wheeling a baby carriage is not likely to patronize a man's hat store. The clocker must record types and, if he holds his job, must make astonishingly accurate guesses whether they are neighborhood folk, train catchers or casual passers-by.

A most remarkable feat in trade psychology is that of a middle-aged clerk in a cigar store near Times square. He generally knows what strangers seek as they cross the door sill. He amazes them by tossing out their brand of cigarettes or offering their favorite box of cigars before they announce their want. He is not infallible, but has proven 80 per cent accurate. He is unable to explain the mental telepathy, but merely classifies it as "instinct."

It seems to me when city people take houses in the country for the summer they spend their time annoying folks, who are enjoying themselves at home, with invitations to come to see them. That goes for yacht owners, too, dern 'em.

The earliest movie of the day in New York is on Broadway near 42nd street and begins at 8:30 a. m. It is patronized chiefly by those who have been out early scurrying around for a job and failed. The theme of the early morning movie is invariably concerned with sudden fortunes salvaged out of hopeless despair.

Suburban villages on Long Island refer to a visit to New York as "going to town." Out in Plattsburgh when any of us set off for Kansas City we thought it utterly blase to announce lightly we were "going over to Jackson county."

There are about 20 get-rich-quick investment houses running full blast in the financial district by men who have prison records for similar racketeering. They make no effort to change their names for there is a fresh sucker crop weekly. A sub rosa agency furnishes 100 new easy mark names for that many dollars. The probable ones are marked with one star and the sure fire victims with two."

Sucker lists to my notion and goody, goody, are sold only to suckers. I have, for instance, been on various sucker lists for years, yet I have never bought one dollar's worth of fly-by-night stock. But, oh, my, the promises.

Speaking of suckers, I wish a certain clipping bureau would quit sending me clippings about McIntyre and Heath at 5 cents per clip.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

The editor of a mid-western paper wants an article on hives. Apparently one of his readers is suffering from this trying ailment and is looking for a means of escape. I am glad to describe the treatment for this trouble.

Hives is a strange disease. Without warning and often without discoverable cause, big welts or swellings appear on the surface of the body. There may be but one welt or there may be a hundred. The skin looks and feels as if a swarm of Jersey mosquitoes had made an attack upon the helpless victim. The itching, smarting, burning, tantalizing sensations are painful to bear. It is impossible to keep from scratching and digging the inflamed parts.

Sometimes the reaction is so great that there is actually fever and real sickness. It is no trifling thing to suffer such an attack.

The worst part of it all is that the sufferer cannot console himself with the thought that pretty soon it will be over and that that will be the end of the trouble, for one attack of hives is almost sure to be followed by another and by repeated attacks.

Invariably this ailment is the outward and visible sign of an internal poisoning. This may be a poisoning from bad food, or from a given food that is harmful to that particular person. In short, he may have what the doctors call an "idiosyncrasy;" what is food for one may be poison to another because of some individual peculiarity.

In a case like this, a careful process of elimination will disclose the offending food. One after the other, this, that and the other food must be omitted from the diet. It may be milk, cream, cheese, eggs, some form of meat, or another article of diet.

The scientists have discovered a way of making food vaccines which are used to discover the offending food. The arm is scratched a bit and the vaccine used until one is found that produces a "reaction." This is a quick way to locate the offensive foodstuff.

Sometimes pus infection—in the teeth, tonsils, nasal sinuses, ear, gall-bladder, or elsewhere, may be productive of a poison which will cause hives. A careful medical examination is likely to find the seat of the trouble.

For the itching and painful local symptoms, hyposulphite of soda, a tablespoonful to half a pint of water, is useful as a local application. This may be swabbed on the affected parts. If the hives cover the entire body, a pint or more of the soda may be dissolved in a tub of water. Soaking in this will help.

But of course you need the advice of your doctor. Every case must be studied on its individual merits.

Answers to Health Queries.

T. K. Q.—What causes shortness of breath?

A.—This is usually due to indigestion, but it would be wise to have your heart examined.

R. B. Q.—What can be done for painful callouses?

A.—Soak the feet at night upon retiring, and apply warm linseed oil. The next morning soak again and scrape away the dead tissue. This should be effective.

W. K. Q.—I have had several hemorrhages during the past ten years, caused by doudenal ulcer. Would an analysis of the feces and gastric contents of the stomach show another attack coming on?

A.—No. For other particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

A. A. B. Q.—What is a normal blood pressure?

2.—What would cause a pain in the pit of the stomach in a middle aged patient?

A.—Depends upon the age of the patient.

2.—Very likely due to gases caused by poor digestion, which causes fermentation and acidity in the stomach and intestines. Watch your diet and avoid constipation. For further particulars send a self-address, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

ANNIE LAURIE'S TIMELY ADVICE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have a very dear girl friend who is extremely jealous of a boy friend of hers. Up to a few weeks ago we were the very best of friends, but now she does not speak to me because of what I consider a trifling matter.

I was in the movies one day and this girl's boy friend, who I know very well, sat in back of me. During the show he came and sat beside me, and later escorted me home.

Some gossip reported this much enlarged to my girl friend and she has not spoken to me since.

I wonder if you could advise me what to do, as I hate losing what has been a very delightful friendship. SYLVIA.

SYLVIA: This is evidently a case of false pride. Your girl friend apparently thinks you made an engagement with her friend without telling her, and you naturally feel that you have been wrongly accused. In cases like this one party at least must be "big." What does it matter who takes the first step toward "making up" when friendship is at stake?

Why don't you forget your pride, go to the girl and say that you know she has been misinformed? Tell her that you only regret she did not come and talk the matter over with you and thus have avoided this lapse in the companionship that has meant so much to you both. Say that she should know that you would not be disloyal to her, but that you want to forget the whole thing and never mention it again. She will be glad to do the same.

You can both learn a big lesson from this trifling affair. Don't accept gossip as truth. Seek out the facts for yourself.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I'm in my late teens and love a young man dearly I've known for quite a while, and at times think he cares for me, though he never asks to take me out or call on me. (The girls tell me he hasn't the nerve, because of my proud and independent nature. A few fellows also have called me high hatted.) One day I spoke to him and he asked me if I was going to a certain dance. I said I didn't know, but I knew I was going, for I had a date with my girl friend. He said if I would he'd take me there. As I was waiting for the street car, he came by in his car, stopped for about a minute without opening the door or even calling me (there was no traffic and he looked at me), then drove off like mad and never showed up at the dance. It was a rainy evening. Should I have walked up to the door without his inviting me? What should I say to him when I see him next? Was I at fault? ANXIOUS.

ANXIOUS: Your demeanor is dignified and correct. Instead of being 'high hat" you are merely giving evidence of good breeding. As for your boy friend, I am sorry to say his manners are not what a young man's should be. He is probably selfish and conceited and unworthy of your attention. Until he calls you or asks for an engagement with you in the proper manner, I think it would be well for you to forget him.

The Army Economy Plan.

By setting the general staff of the army to work at the job of finding ways and means whereby the expenses of the military establishment may be reduced without injuring the national defense system, President Hoover leaves the army in the hands of its friends for examination instead of exposing it to dissection by ill-wishers and politicians. It also is true that the members of the general staff are in a special position to cut and prune with intelligence and discretion if they are so disposed, and there is small likelihood that any suggestions made by them will be crippling in their tendencies, now that the place of aircraft in the scheme of military operation has been fully recognized.

The dangerous aspect of the departure, if there is a dangerous aspect, is to be found in the use certain elements may try to make of the wide-spread advertisement that a general plan for reduction of annual outlay on the military force of the country is contemplated. The president's announcement is a temptation to every faddist, pacifist and red plotter in the country to re-engage with renewed vigor in a campaign for the purpose of destroying the army by process of starvation. Already those elements in the population have succeeded in reducing the personnel of the regular military force to a point which is far below the minimum consistent with safety. If competent military authorities, including the late Secretary Weeks and the late General Leonard Wood, have known what they have been talking about when they have spoken from time to time. In face of the studied hostility of the destructivists,, even the maintenance of existing summer training camps and of national guard organizations has been uphill work now and again.

We believe in government economy and thrift in the army as well as in other places, and avoidable waste in federal affairs is a sin against the taxpayers of the nation. But it is just as necessary to combat and keep in check the scuttlers, as it is to combat and keep in check extravagant specialists in military matters and those departmental personages who are so wedded to tradition and precedence that the maintenance of a piece of red tape procedure is more important than the saving of a few million dollars. Both elements are foes of true national defense. But the former are more dangerous of the two, because when the damage they do becomes apparent, the opportunity to repair it without excessive penalty generally is gone.

We do not mean to convey the impression that we are unsympathetic with the object of President Hoover's move for military economy. Quite the contrary. But we do believe that in engaging in the enterprise, the government accepts a little special obligation to keep in check the deleterious forces which will endeavor to take advantage of it, and capitalize it in a misleading way for propaganda purposes—Detroit Free Press.

Clamoring for Crime Punishment.

Why be so bitter in your denunciation of those who have strayed from the straight and narrow path?

If the law had been strictly enforced in your case, you know reasons why you might have been arrested for certain misdeeds.

Often you have contemplated engaging in something which would mean fine and imprisonment if you were caught at it.

Why should you then, offender, or near-offender, speak so harshly of those who have been caught in some law infraction which you have either committed or contemplated.

It was not from an established principle of right and wrong that you did not violate the law.

It was thought of possible disgrace to yourself and your family that kept you straight.

Often those least sympathetic have the most hidden sins.

Such persons frequently cry the loudest for punishment but hunting the crime.

Also they would cry the loudest for sympathy were they in trouble.

LOIS MORAN IN ADE COMEDY

George Ade's unerring feeling for the comic in American life, plus Alfred E. Green's experience in transferring a number of these stories to the screen, have combined to make "Making the Grade" Fox Film, an unusually mirthful comedy. It opened today at the Ceramic theater.

Lois Moran and Edmund Lowe play the two principal roles. Comic situations are cleverly built up without weakening the thread of a pretty love story.

The cast is unusually strong. Tora, the Brazilian beauty contest winner, has a charming role and does well with it. Lucien Littlefield also contributes a full share to the merry-making.

In addition to the feature picture, a two reel comedy entitled "Beneath the Law," featuring Clark and McCullough, will be shown.

In the cast are Joyzelle, well known on the Pacific coast as a dancer; May Boley, famous stage comedienne of great weight; George Bickel, veteran of the vaudeville and musical comedy stages; Joe Marba, musical comedy character star, and Billy Bletcher, who stirred up a series of laughs in "Waltzing Around" as a radio announcer. Harry Sweet was the director.

In addition to the comic situations and the wise-cracking dialogue, this picture introduces some snappy music by a full jazz band and some colorful dancing by Joyzelle.

"FLYING FOOL" AT AMERICAN

Rising to a tremendous climax that will make most fans gasp, "The Flying Fool," Pathe's all-talking air drama starring William Boyd, will be shown at the American theater today, tomorrow and Saturday. Although the story has an aviation background and though it reaches a great dramatic crescendo with a scene in the air it is not entirely an air story. It is a human drama, which combines pathos and comedy, played by a cast of capable actors and moulded into fine entertainment.

In his role of the Flying Fool, Mr. Boyd is seen as a devil-may-care stunt flyer whose weakness is women. They have been his chief diversion since the days in France when he was an American ace, but he has never fallen in love. His motto is "find 'em, fool 'em and forget 'em!" This he proceeds to do with amazing success until he decides to "save" his brother from what he believes is a designing cabaret singer. It is at this point that complications set in and Bill finds that for once he is not master of his situation. The climax of the story is tremendous and must be seen to be appreciated.

Boyd is said to be excellent as the heart-breaker dare-devil. Marie Prevost is as captivating and convincing as ever as the cabaret girl, a type of role that suits her personality perfectly.

Tom O'Brien, playing a blustering, bullying aviator who gets licked plenty for his trouble, demonstrates that he is master of this type of role. Russell Gleason has a fine character part.

FAMOUS QUARTET IN STATE FILM

The members of the famous "Harmony Emperors' Quartet" did their stuff and how—before cameras and mikes, on the big theatre set where Alan Crosland filmed "On With the Show," the first 100 per cent natural color, talking, singing, dancing Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture now at the State theatre.

This colored quartet is rated the best in the nation. It was one of the sensations of Hollwood when it appeared in a prologue at Garuman's theatre, and later it toured the country with acclaim.

The scenes of the show were filmed on the stage with full musical accompaniment, while most of the dramatic action takes place backstage. Much of the darktown jazz stuff was especially written for this production and is set in the cotton fields down South.

One of the happiest features of the filming of "On With the Show" was the fact that the extras who composed the large audience got such a tremendous kick out of the Harmony Quartet, and their weird and moving negro melodies. If there was an extra long wait between scenes, the extras called for a song, and the Quartet always good-naturedly responded. And the applause that they got was not "movie applause," either.

Sally O'Neil, Arthur Lake, Betty Compson, William Bakewell, Louise Fazenda, Sam Hardy the Fairbanks Twins, Lee Moran, Joe E. Brown and many others, including a chorus of dazzling beauties, one hundred strong, are in the cast of this picture.

EVERY DETAIL of its design makes for EASIEST CLEANING

SPOTLESS, gleaming white—the General Electric Refrigerator looks its part—guardian of the family food . . . and the family health. And, because of its special design, it is as sanitary and clean as it looks.

All the inside corners of the cabinet are rounded. You know how easy that makes cleaning. No spilled food can hide in corners or seep into crevices. A damp cloth leaves the whole lining of the cabinet absolutely spotless. And the chilling chamber is so designed that you can easily clean all around it. Housewives who pride themselves on being "fussy" have commented favorably on this fact. And they like having the cabinet up on legs, for that gives them plenty of broom-room underneath.

Because the entire mechanism of the General Electric is hermetically sealed in a steel casing, it is dust-proof and safe from the difficulties which dust can so easily cause.

You should examine this most modern of all refrigerators — study the new all-steel cabinet, the many improvements. As evidence of guaranteed reliability, there are more than 300,000 users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs! And find out about the conveniently spaced payments on which any of the models can be bought.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

BY JOAN.

Everyone who has seen the fine display of fur coats at OGILVIE'S has been impressed with the style variety and the very clever combinations being featured. The coats this year were designed for women of personality, for they are so individual in their styling and so much more feminine. Looking at fur coats is always a thrill, but looking at them when prices are substantially reduced is something else again. OGILVIE'S coat department is fairly bulging with gorgeous models in Jap Mink..Hudson Seal .. Caracul .. Raccoon..Pony and many others. Many of them styled to slenderize the woman of mature proportions. Furs offered in the August Fur Sale are of skins taken in the "prime"-months when furs are at their best. You may select your coat now and a deposit will hold it for later delivery.

Gorgeousness and more gorgeousness .. exquisite creations in velvet frocks and ensembles in the glorious Fall shades of Old English green..Rust and many others. If you could see the boxes and boxes of elegant merchandise being unpacked at LEMMER'S you'd be fascinated just as we were. We were really loathe to leave until the last boxes were opened and their contents brought forth. This, of course is just a hint of the shipments to follow. You see, Mr. and Mrs. Lemmer spent all of last week in New York buying Fall and Winter merchandise..attending fashion shows .. selecting here and rejecting there —then more buying until finally their collection of frocks, suits coats and millinery was complete. You'll agree they deserve a lot of praise for assembling such an incomparable display of lovely apparel.

And one thing we've promised never to do, "neglect our Mens' fashions." They simply will not stand for it. How they do like to be told "That's a good-looking suit you're wearing. Looks fine on you Color's very becoming." No matter what kind of a humour he's in, immediately he begins to brighten and without any questioning reveals with a supreme air of satisfaction, "I bought it at Frank Diamond's." We've strayed from our subject but why list the new styles, fabrics, patterns and colors when a visit to Frank Diamond's would be so much more satisfactory? Men who insist on finest fabrics and faultless tailoring will find in this group of new Fall suits the answer to their demands.

Will you please tell that lady who has been wanting a Poster Bed that I saw several the other day at The Frank Crook Co? If you'll just mention also that they are included in the August Furniture Sale. I know she will appreciate the substantial reductions, not only on these beds but there are dozens and dozens of rare bargains to be had. So many folks have taken advantage of this opportunity to refurnish a room and if not an entire room..an occasional piece adds a new note of beauty and charm and keeps the home "youthful" looking. Just go in and look at those lovely tables and desks..those boudoir chairs and the pull - up chairs .. that love - seat. You'll never find such wonderful values again. That's why I insist that you make an early visit to CROOK'S Furniture Store.

It isn't surprising that such a wave of interest in Frigidaire is spreading over the entire country. No, indeed, not to those who own a Frigidaire for they know folks would awaken to it's merits. Frigidaire is the automatic refrigerator of outstanding beauty. The food shelves are elevated to prevent stooping. It can be placed anywhere for it requires no connections except for electric current. There is no exposed machinery to catch dust or dirt and it is the only one quipped with the Cold Control..a simple dial that gives you ice cubes quickly and enables you to freeze desserts in a very short time. Because it offers you this combination of essential features it is the choice of the majority. When you visit The Crockery Ice & Products Co. you too will be impressed with the beauty, convenience and outstanding values of Frigidaire.

Here's a bit of happy news for all you girls who will be needing a new Permanent in the very near future. The Stern Beauty Shoppe is offering a "special" on their waves. # When Babies CRY

Babies will cry, often for no apparent reason. You may not know what's wrong, but you can always give Castoria. This soon has your little one comforted; if not, you should call a doctor. Don't experiment with medicines intended for the stronger systems of adults! Most of those little upsets are soon soothed away by a little of this pleasant-tasting, gentle-acting children's remedy that children like.

It may be the stomach, or may be the little bowels. Or in the case of older children, a sluggish, constipated condition. Castoria is still the thing to give. It is almost certain to clear up any minor ailment, and could by no possibility do the youngest child the slightest harm. So it's the first thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue; won't play, can't sleep, is fretful or out of sorts. Get the genuine; it always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package.

Now SOHIO ETHYL sets new standards in anti-knock quality

STANDARD OIL (Ohio) is now putting more Ethyl brand of anti-knock compound into Sohio Ethyl Gasoline.

To owners of the high-compression cars of today, this change means added assurance of maximum motor efficiency.

To other drivers it means a definite increase in the advantages afforded by Sohio Ethyl when used in any make or model of car.

This increase in the Ethyl content of Sohio Ethyl gasoline produces a fuel that exceeds official anti-knock standards. It materially strengthens the ability of Sohio Ethyl to do these things:

1. Stop carbon knocks
2. Give smooth, even power
3. Make frequent gear shifting unnecessary
4. Prevent needless wear and tear—help keep motors cool

The sweeping popularity won by Sohio Ethyl Gasoline in its first year attests its unique character. Sohio Ethyl is a remarkable motor fuel—remarkable for its purity, uniformity and volatility. And now we are putting even more Ethyl into Sohio Ethyl—making it a still better motor fuel—but with no increase in price.

Here is a concrete instance of this Ohio Corporation's avowed policy—to provide Ohio motorists the finest motor fuels and lubricants that modern science can produce.

Are you getting all your motor's power?

Any automobile motor having a compression ratio of 5 or more to 1 requires Ethyl Gasoline to develop the power and efficiency it was designed to furnish.

Get a copy of this folder at any Standard Oil (Ohio) service station or Sohio dealer's. It tells at a glance whether your car requires Sohio Ethyl.

But remember that stopping the knock—and Ethyl does!—will make any motor smoother, more powerful, more efficient.

FORMER LOCAL GROCER VISITS FRIENDS HERE

C. E. Jones and Family St. Petersburg, Fla., in Town.

SON A MINISTER

Peninsula State Has Bright Future Jones Claims.

C. E. Jones, former East Liverpool grocer, who for the past eight years has been a resident of St. Petersburg, Fla., has been visiting with Mrs. Jones and their second son, C. E. jr., the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kelly, of Lincoln highway, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Jones.

Just now they are preparing to motor back to the Peninsula state in time for the younger of his two sons to enter Junior college in St. Petersburg following his graduation from the high school there and preparatory to his subsequent entrance into the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston where he hopes to complete his studies in chemical research.

His elder son, Paul Jones, has entered the Presbyterian ministry and is during the summer filling the pulpit of the Bramwell, W. Va., Presbyterian church. He is a graduate of the St. Petersburg high school and later attended for an extended interim Davidson college in North Carolina, an institution at which the late President Woodrow Wilson was also a student for a period during his earlier educational years.

The now Rev. Mr. Jones was married about a year ago to the then Miss Betty Boyd, a former resident of Columbus, Ohio, before her family removed as did his own to St. Petersburg, Fla. He plans to enter the Union Theological seminary of Richmond, Va., this fall.

During their residence here the entire family were members of the First Presbyterian church on West Fourth street where the two lads were active in the organizations in it in which its youth function.

Mr. Jones is optimistic of the future of Florida despite the setback it received by the frenzied speculations and losses that accrued from the mad rush of investors to that locality several years ago.

"More constructive work in the way of development of the state has been done in the interim following the financial slump in Florida than obtained in it for ten years previous to that untoward event," Mr. Jones averred in speaking of conditions in his present home. "The speculative spirit is now past and in its stead is apparent the steady and healthful activity towards a normal growth of its resources."

He said that it was almost impossible to handle those who came to St. Petersburg last winter and that this summer three new hotels are in the process of being erected. He felt that even the added trio of stopping places would likely be taxed when completed.

The Jones family has been here for the past six weeks. They came and propose to return by the Shenandoah route which Mr. Jones declared "is easily the most attractive one leading to his own section of the southland."

During his residence in East Liverpool Mr. Jones was engaged in business at the head of Bradshaw avenue and lived across the street from his store room.

These two deaths due to traffic accidents raised the total of Cleveland's traffic fatalities for 1929 to 156.

Drowning Victim.

on the recent unsuccessful attempt to fly the Atlantic, when the airmen were forced by storms to turn back after reaching the Azores.

According to present indications the start will be made early tomorrow or Saturday morning. Coste is determined to make the flight, and feels that he learned enough about the vagaries of trans-Atlantic flying on his last attempt to ensure success this time.

The flight will be made in the same red Breguet-Hispano plane "Question Mark" which carried the aviator 1,000 miles out over the Atlantic on their last attempt. The plane is equipped with radio, but there is no provision for an emergency landing on the water.

Captain Coste originally intended to start at dawn today, but although weather conditions were good, he was confident they would become much better, and decided to wait 24 hours at least.

AT THE Congress of Theosophists, in Chicago, such beings as gnomes, sylphs, and even angels, will be photographed, if possible.

A bonafide photograph of angels would be extremely valuable to aviation engineers.

THE flying apparatus that once enabled angels to fly back and forth from earth to Heaven would be especially interesting.

Science tells us that Heaven must be so far off that it would take light, traveling 186,000 miles per second, several millions of years to get there. There must be some other instantaneous method of light, unknown to us.

AN OLD miracle play, "Everyman," was produced in Canterbury Cathedral yesterday. Such plays were common in cathedrals and churches in the Middle Ages.

IN THE Canterbury play, the Deity was impersonated by an actor wearing a white beard, golden crown and a red sleeveless mantle. The average modern mind probably would not imagine such a being ruling infinite space.

GREAT forest fires continue in Montana and new fires sweep Oregon timber preserves, where 400,000,000 feet of lumber are menaced.

Careless tossing aside of a cigaret or cigar is usually responsible for such disasters.

Could chemists, utilizing aircraft, find a way to fight the fires at the start?

RUSSIANS declare that capitalism, which means us and Great Britain and other prosperous nations, is urging the Chinese to make war on Russia. Russia, of course, won't stand that. Considerable fighting reported yesterday.

A BRITISH flying officer, Atcherley, who will compete in the next Schneider cup race, attained yesterday a flying speed of 320 to 350 miles per hour.

It is to be hoped that our Navy will decide to let its crack flier, Lieut. Williams, and his boat "Mercury" go over and try to beat that record, especially as Williams and his friends invested $175,000 of their own money in the race plane.

THE International Revenue Bureau informs you that this country does not neglect its cigaret smoking.

One hundred and thirty billion cigarets a year, more than 1,000 for every man, woman and child in the country, is the present rate of consumption.

The planes which made the forced landing in a field near here, are:

RAVEN ROCK AIRPORT, PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Flying under a low ceiling and touched at intervals by rain showers, two Ohio Good Will air tour airplanes hopped off from here this morning on the second day's jaunt of the statewide flight.

The planes, headed by the "Headquarters" ship, a replica of the "Spirit of St. Louis," slipped down the runway, one after another, in perfect take-offs.

COURT UPHOLDS 'PAJAMA DANCE'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 22.—(INS)—There's no law forbidding dancers from appearing in a public hall in pajamas, Judge Frank H. Dodge ruled today in enjoining Sheriff R. A. Cook from carrying out a threat to arrest all persons who appeared so clad at a "pajama dance."

But—here's the catch—the court added that all usual garments must be worn under the pajamas.

FARM TRAGEDY STIRS VILLAGE

Boy Killed, Two Others Wounded While Raiding Corn Field.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Aug. 22.—In this quiet agricultural community where nothing much ever happens lay a strange farmland tragedy today.

As four ragged bare-footed children were stealing from a rich man's corn field, a gun volley burst among them.

Dead: John Kolesar, 12.

Dying: Joseph Klementovitch, 10.

Seriously wounded: Helen Klementovitch, 14.

Anna Kolesar, 10-year-old sister of the slain John, was the only one to escape. She identified the man with the shotgun as one of the Hoffman brothers, Grover and Craig, owners of the farm invaded. Both brothers, one of the oldest and most prosperous families in the region, deny any knowledge of the shooting.

The tragedy has brought to life slumbering social forces—the feeling of the poor against the rich, of the native against the immigrant, of the townsman against the farmer.

And while the farmers of the region are shocked at the tragedy, the sentiment persists that a landowner has the right to protect his property.

HALT TRUCKING RAILROAD TOLD

COLUMBUS, Aug. 22.—(INS.)—An order issued today by the state utilities commission requires officials of the New York Central railroad company to stop its motor truck operations on its Norwalk division between Cleveland and Toledo and between Toledo and Danbury. The commission's action was in response to a complaint filed by officials of the Ohio Association of Commercial Haulers.

The railroad's truck operations, it was claimed, were improperly conducted through contract between the railroad and the A. B Peck company. Freight of the railroad was hauled in trucks belonging to the Peck company, the commission was told.

The commission's order prohibits the Peck company "or any other agent not authorized by the commission to haul freight for the railroad.

Second Postponement.

KASUMIGAURA, AIR FIELD, Japan, Aug. 22. — Possibility of a still further delay in the start of the German Graf Zeppelin on the Pacific leg of its world-girdling flight, because of unfavorable weather, was admitted by Dr. Eckener tonight, 30 minutes before the time scheduled for the start.

The weather in the vicinity of the air field at 9:30 a. m. (8:30 a. m. Eastern Daylight time) was very averse. There were heavy clouds; a slight rain was falling, and there was a light wind blowing across the field.

Lightning and thunderstorms were reported in the area just north of Kasumigaura.

The start, postponed from 4 a. m. today because of an accident to the rear motor gondola while the ground crew was walking the airship from its hangar, was tentatively set for 1 p. m. (9 a. m. Eastern Standard time).

POTTER HURT IN BUS CRASH

John L. Rigby Recovering at Seventh Street Home.

John L. Rigby, of West Seventh street, a potter employed at the Thompson pottery, is recovering from injuries which he received on Saturday afternoon near Hanoverton, this county, while en route to East Rochester to attend a reunion and home coming that was in progress there that day.

He was a passenger on a Canton bus which left here at 11 o'clock that morning and which, at the point of accident, broke one of its front springs which caused the vehicle to almost be precipitated into the water in the bed of the old canal alongside.

Mr. Rigby with the other passengers in the bus was hurled about in his seat and sustained a badly split right ear with a sharp abrasion under his right eye on a cheek bone. He was given a hard blow on the back of his head also which, he declares, if a bit harder might have proven serious.

The driver did good work in finally managing the car though other passengers were also bruised.

Mr. Rigby was rushed to a physician, Dr. Taylor, of East Rochester, who dressed his hurts. He spent that night at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Niles, on a farm in proximity to East Rochester, where he suffered considerably from shock. He was able to return to his home here on Monday afternoon, his brother, H. A. Rigby, of this city, having gone after him.

Wearing bandages he is able to be about upon the streets but it will be some time before he will be restored to a normal condition.

BOXER'S DEATH TO BE PROBED

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 22.—(INS)—The inquiry into the death Monday night of Johnny "Kid" Sullivan, featherweight boxer, was referred to the grand jury today by Judge Leo Sullivan of the criminal court.

Remarking that Sullivan's death at the Oakland A. C. during a bout with Herbert Follins, Newark boxer, was palpably an accident, Judge Sullivan paroled Follins, who was held on a charge of manslaughter, John Masterly, the referee, and the boxers' managers. All were being held in custody of John J. Jennings, promoter of the Athletic club.

An autopsy performed on Sullivan showed that death was due to exhaustion, according to the coroner's physician.

ROOSEVELT DRY SENATOR SAYS

Brookhart Discusses Prohibition at Albany Conference.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(INS.)—Drys today claimed endorsement of their policy, at least politically, from Governor Roosevelt, despite the fact that he supported Former Governor Smith in the last presidential campaign.

Their contention is based upon the statement of U. S. Senator Brookhart of Iowa after the latter's visit to the executive mansion, where the governor is slightly indisposed. Brookhart quoted Roosevelt as saying:

"If a referendum on the dry question were taken tomorrow, I believe the result would be a victory for the drys."

Brookhart himself declared a wet can never be elected to the White House. He said:

"With thirty-seven states already in the dry column, and an ever increasing sentiment favoring prohibition, a wet can never obtain the presidency."

He said Governor Roosevelt revealed a keen grasp of the agricultural situation, which they discussed.

URGES COLORED OFFICE HOLDERS

De Priest Urges Harlem Negroes to Organize.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS.)—Harlem knew all about politics today. The 1,000,000 or more Negroes in New York's black belt have learned their political primary from Oscar De Priest, of Chicago, only colored representative in congress.

His mane of white hair waving beligerently, De Priest gestured wildly and shook his fists as he exhorted colored voters of Harlem to elect only members of their own race to office.

"If your district leader is a white man, pitch him out," he cried.

"Don't ask for representation, take it," he implored. I'm getting along fine in Washington, but I'd like some one to help me out."

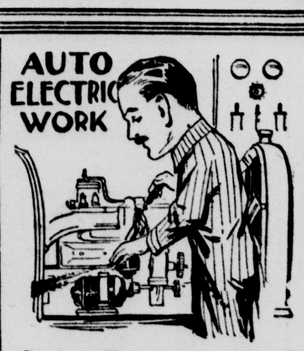

"If white candidates come around trying to buy votes, take their money and beat them, too. We wish they'd try it in Chicago. We'd take every cent and then send them to the dry cleaners."

SENATE HOLDS BRIEF SESSION

The complaining company claimed the commission, on April first, rejected a similar application filed by interests associated with the Wheeling-Youngstown concern.

ARREST CHIEF FOR SHOOTIN[illegible]

Two Alleged Bootleggers Killed in Gu[illegible] Battle.

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 22.—(INS.)—Chief of Police Leroy Fisk, of W[illegible] Frankfort, near here, was held under technical arrest here toda[illegible] pending outcome of an inquest into the deaths of two alleged bootleggers during a gun battle in the business district of West Frankfort last night.

The West Frankfort chief of police instantly killed Earl Kreiger and Albert McDonald after Kreiger is said to have opened fire on Patrolman George Nipper, also of West Frankfort, who was helping Fisk search the car occupied by Kreiger and McDonald.

Fisk emptied four shotgun shells into the men after Kreiger is said to have shot at Nipper and missed.

Notes detailing deliveries of bootleg whisky are said to have been found in Kreiger's pockets. Both men were said by the authorities to be police characters.

The street will be improved with amiesite by Contractor George P. Patterson.

KATIES IN ACTION HERE TONIGHT

Tied today for second place in the Inter-City baseball league as a result of Laughlin's victory over K. T. K. last night, the Wellsville club and the Katies clash tonight in Nicholson Field in a battle for the runner-up position.

The game originally was scheduled for the Katies' grounds but inasmuch as these are not in condition, the contest will be staged here. Schneidmiller and Stoffel will be the hurlers.

Both the Wellsville club and the Katies are very much in the running for the second half pennant. Laughlin is only a game and a half in front with nine games remaining to be played.

Tonight's game will start at 5:45. Tomorrow night, the locals tangle with the league leaders on the local lot.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed.

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

Nor does cutting remove the cause.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1,000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathews Original Cut Rate, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

HOLLOW ROCK MEET SUCCESS

Financial Deficit Wiped Out at Recent Services.

Final resume of the work accomplished during the 10-day camp meeting recently at Hollow Rock reveals the fact that the gathering was one of the most successful of recent years.

From a financial standpoint the meeting served to wipe out a deficit of approximately $1,000 which had existed from former years and also provided for improvements amounting to approximately the same amount, as well as annual expenses that totalled $600.

Although no attempt was made to keep an accurate record of them, it is estimated that more than 100 conversions occurred during the services. The crowds were even larger than in 1928, although the number present on the final Sunday, that of Aug. 11, may not have exceeded that of the final Sunday of the previous year.

Dormitories and hotels paid their way.

A. K. Householder, Stratton, was re-elected president; Edward Cooper, Georgetown, Pa., vice president, and Ray Householder, Toronto, secretary-treasurer. Virtually all of the trustees were re-elected.

Only the ground caretaker is on the lot as the rule of the association provides for occupancy not more than 10 days prior to the meetings and demands departure within four days after the meetings conclude.

F. C. WILSON HAS BEAUTIFUL SUMMER HOME

Occupies 75-acre Tract In Madison Township.

IDEAL LOCATION

Place Has Appearance Of Southern Plantation.

An exceedingly attractive farm dwelling house is that of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wilson in the southwest corner of Madison township which is the center of activities by them on a 75-acre plot of ground with another farm just alongside it.

The home has been erected on huge stones for a basement and is of the two-story type with outhouses of large dimensions alongside that suggest the running continuation of those on many southern plantations. The house is kept neatly painted and a wealth of shrubbery and flowers now in full bloom are just about it, some of them growing right against its walls. Even the picket fence in front of the place is embellished by similar flowers. On its roof are lightning rods which have attached bulbs of variegated colors that lend themselves to the colors emanating from the yard about the house.

The house is likewise situated on a curve on the hillside which enables it to be a bit under higher hills some distance away and which affords protection from winter winds.

The ground upon which it rests dips downward and consummates in a ravine that gives a further appealing background to the whole of the immediate landscape about it.

Always a farm bell is appealing no matter where it is placed on the premises. The one on this place rests at the end of a high pole which bends from the ground at an angle giving it much the appearance of a long pole which occasionally may be seen attached to buckets in old fashioned wells. It accordingly looms as a most compelling appurtenance to the appointments of the place.

The barn attached to it is situated some distance away on a higher plot of ground to which a roadway leads by other structures that have been erected to house the trucks and the automobiles used by the family. Engaged in dairying to some extent as Mr. Wilson is is the barn has a cement section of floor from which the milking may be handily and sanitarily done.

Between the house and the barn alongside the roadway leading to the latter is also a unique section of cherry trees which attract attention by reason of their tangled condition. They appear hurricane-swept yet withal have grown to the full height of such trees.

In the care of the premises and by the growth of green verdure, plants and flowers immediately about the home in which they reside Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have gone far in making for a beauty of life in rural sections that could be duplicated by many were they to address themselves somewhat to the beautifying of the grounds about and upon which they live.

The view of this home is further heightened by the presence of a grove of trees immediately across the winding roadway from it.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson some years ago spent a winter in Wellsville, but the call of the farm was too strong and they returned to it with the coming of spring. The latter in her girlhood was a resident of Wellsville before her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Connell, removed to the country some miles away from her present home.

Western or detective films have been barred from Bulgaria.

DIRECT NEW MARKETING PLAN

It appears certain that full co-operation of the federal farm board will be given the new $50,000,000 fruit and vegetable co-operative venture of the United Fruit Growers' Association of America. Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce (left), will head the new association and will be ably assisted by William M. Jardine (right), former U. S. secretary of agriculture.

Buy Your Tires on a Guaranteed Mileage Basis

Save $2 to $15 per Tire

ALL tires look good . . . when they're new. And they are good. But the big question that concerns the buyer is—"How Good?"

To that question . . . names, claims, differences in price, do not offer the final answer.

So far as we know, there is only one thing that does answer the question: a definite, specific GUARANTEE of the minimum mileage your tire will deliver.

That is the basis—and the ONLY basis—on which automobile tires are sold by Montgomery Ward & Co.

The names RIVERSIDE and WARDWEAR are as good as any other tire names. But we do not advance names as the reason why you should buy from Ward's. Our tires are built by nationally-known manufacturers—of the finest materials and by the most modern methods . . . yet that is not the chief reason why millions of motorists are today riding on RIVERSIDES. We also claim that these tires represent more value per dollar than any other tires built . . . yet similar claims are offered on behalf of other brands.

None of these things decides the question of QUALITY . . . So—we offer you Ward's three guarantees . . . 30,000 miles unconditionally on the Super Service RIVERSIDE; 16,000 miles on the First-Quality RIVERSIDE; 10,000 miles on the WARDWEAR . . . as instant indicators of the tire quality you can count on when you buy from Ward's.

—And Ward's prices clinch the argument with a SAVING of $2 to $15 on every tire!

Visit our store today—examine these tires for yourself. Remember: the proof of any advertisement is the performance of the product—and RIVERSIDE performance is definitely guaranteed! That's why we say: Do not pay more for any other tire . . . unless more miles are guaranteed.

NEWELL BEATS KATIES, 3-2, TO RETAIN LEAD

Leaders Capture Close One

Potters Rally in Last Inning to Win.

HOMER LAUGHLIN club of the Inter-City league retained its grip on first place in the circuit last night by nosing out a win over the Katies, 3-2, at Newell, in one of the finest exhibitions of the second half drive.

The battle all the way would have done credit to a much higher class league and although an error or two cropped out at moments, the game as a whole was a closely fought, finely drawn affair from the first out until the last.

There were many outstanding performances in last night's fray, including the fine slab work of Jack O'Brosky who limited the pace setters to four safe bingles; Bill Merchant, who ably enacted the role of pinch hitter in the seventh, starting the winning rally with a single; the pitching and fielding of Pollock who had five assists to his credit; the work of McConnell and Watson in left, both of whom pulled down hard drives at critical moments.

Both Have Chances.

Both clubs had scoring opportunities in the first inning but neither could punch over a run. Eddie Bayley led off with a single to left and Coleman sacrificed him. Bayley went to third on a wild pitch. Schultz hit to Finley who pegged to the plate and Bayley was run down between third and the plate.

Laughlin got two men on, one as far as second in their half of the same frame when the K. T. K. defense tightened up and retired three in order.

From the second on until the sixth then, neither club threatened the plate very seriously. Jack O'Brosky led off with a single in the second but was forced out at second. And Chappie Finley slapped out a double to middle in the fourth but he perished at second when the next three batters were mowed down in order.

The Katies cracked the ice in the sixth. After Bayley had been retired at first, Coleman punched a single through second and moved up on Schultz's sacrifice. Kinsey then lined one at Finley and the throw got through Digman at first, Coleman racing in with the first run.

Watson fanned and Jackson flew out to Kinsey in right. Kinsey pulling down the drive after a hard run, as Laughlin started their half of the sixth. But Chappie Finley up and smote a home run to middle field to tie the score. The drive cleared the car tracks and went far into the field on the other side. It was a hard hit ball.

The Katies forged ahead in the first of the seventh. Catcher Pumphrey stopped one with his shoulder and went to second on McConnell's sacrifice. He moved over to third as Andy O'Brosky sacrificed. Sayres topped his drive, lining one in the ground toward the box. The ball got mixed up with Pollock's feet and the pitcher threw hurriedly and low to first. Sayres was safe and Pumphrey counted. Bayley singled but Coleman skied out to middle.

Newell Wins In Seventh.

Merchant batted for Densmore in the last of the seventh and the first baseman, who has been on the sideline as a result of illness, cracked out a single to left. Bubin sacrificed Mosser, who ran for Merchant to second. Pollock hit to Andy O'Brosky on third. O'Brosky fielded the ball and threw to second and would have caught Mosser off the bag, but the ball bounced out of Sayres' glove and all hands were safe. Both runners moved ahead one base when Pumphrey's throw to first got past Schultz, the latter tripping and falling as the heave went out.

Tony Ranaldi, who has been hobbling around on crutches since being injured in a game a week or so ago at Wellsville, came up for his final batting attempt and Tony "pooshed one up" into short left, too far out for Bayley to get and in too close for McConnell. Both runners had a big lead and both finished.

PHILLIES LAND 4TH FROM BUCS

Donie Bush Chased From Field in Seventh Inning.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—The Phillies made it four in a row over Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday afternoon, winning a slugfest, 10 to 8, when Lefty O'Doul produced a home run with two on in the fourth inning when the score was tied at 6-6.

The Phillies used three hurlers, Doc Collins relieving Elliott and gaining credit for the conquest, though help was needed from young Harry Smythe, left hander, who pitched the last two innings.

Comorcsky's single to center in the ninth was the first hit off Rookie Symthe in six and two-third innings. Donie Bush, Pirate manager, was chased from the field after arguing with Umpire Barry McCormick over a decision in the seventh inning. On another occasion the umpire threatened to clear the Pittsburgh bench.

Larry French and Swetonic did the Pittsburgh flinging, the latter sustaining the defeat.

Critics And Net Star Row

"Bearing Down" Too Hard on Foes, is Complaint.

FOREST HILLS, L. I., Aug. 22. Pretty Helen Wills, international lawn tennis champion. She's condemned if she does and double condemned if she does not.

Following her 8-6, 8-6, victory over Betty Nuthall in the Wightman Cup matches, her triumph by such a narrow margin was interpreted in many quarters as an indication that she was losing her grip and taking less interest in the game in view of her approaching marriage.

Now comes her playing in the current women's national championship tournament in which she has won her first, second and third round matches for a total of 36 games with the loss of only one.

Never, say the same critics who condemned what they thought was her lackadaisical play against Miss Nuthall, has the champion played with such seeming vindictiveness as she has put into her play against the second string girls she has been called upon to meet in the national title matches. Her service is regarded as nothing short of murderous and her forehand and backward drives never have carried such burning speed as they have sizzled across the Forest Hills turf these last few days.

Certain it is that Queen Helen has played against Katherine Lamarche, Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin and Miss Alice Francis, her first three tournament opponents, as if the world hung on each and every point. In going after every shot, Queen Helen has been absolutely relentless and it is the very fury of her play that has brought the wrath of the critics down upon her head.

All of which tends to prove that Miss Wills is not nearly as good a psychologist as she is a lawn tennis player. If she knew her critics properly she would have been relentless and vindictive to the nth power against the British Betty while she would have toyed with the second rate American opponents in the national tournament as a cat with a mouse before finally executing the coup de grace. That would have made her more popular with the critics and incidentally would have won her the plaudits of the gallery. As it is she plays through in her best relentless manner and gets no more applause than a finely adjusted buzz-saw.

That Helen Wills is just as excellent player as she ever was goes withoutsaying and its dollars to doughnuts that she will win her sixth national title in more decisive fashion that she has triumphed in any previous tournament. This despite the fact she will undoubtedly meet Betty Nuthall in the semi-finals and either Helen Jacobs or Mrs. Phoebe Watson in the finals.

COLUMBUS WIN SPREE EXTENDED

Senators Beat Millers And Hang up 7th In Row.

Outstanding among the events in the American Association pennant race yesterday was Columbus' victory over Minneapolis, which gave the Senators their seventh consecutive win. The Indianapolis-Louisville tie was broken, with the Hoosiers gaining the vantage point.

Five errors proved costly for the Millers and when the runs were tabulated at the end of the ninth, Columbus had a 6 to 4 win. Columbus is sixth in the league, but only one and one-half games behind Louisville. Minneapolis is third.

By the way, the Millers' defeat yesterday was their sixth straight loss. It must be that old American baseball custom of hitting a slump ever so often.

Indianapolis split a double header with Milwaukee but the one win was all it needed for an undisputed fourth place. Louisville, which was tied with the Indians, lost its game to Kansas City and forthwith tumbled into the fifth place and the second division.

In their double header, the Brewers, seventh position nine, took the first game by a 3 to 1 score, but dropped the second to Indianapolis, 5 to 0.

Indianapolis is only a half game ahead of Louisville so today may see the two teams tied again.

Kansas City is still leading the league and probably will annex the pennant, according to present indications.

St. Paul and Toledo locked horns and played an air-tight contest. The game ending with a 1 to 0 victory for the Saints. St. Paul is second in the flag race. Toledo is last.

Games today are: Minneapolis at Columbus; St. Paul at Toledo; Kansas City at Louisville, and Milwaukee at Indianapolis.

LAUGHLINS WIN AT SALINEVILLE

GUNNERS SHOOT AT VANDALIA

Ohioans Finish Second For State Team Title.

VANDALIA GUN CLUB, DAYTON, O., August 22.—A total of 131 cash awards and trophies will be made tonight by the contest committee of the Amateur Trapshooting association at the close of the preliminary handicap, next in importance to the grand American handicap which will be shot off here tomorrow.

More than 800 entries had been made up to last night for the preliminary, according to the registrars who have estimated that approximately 1,100 shooters will be on the firing line tomorrow.

Ohio had a chance to win the state team championship yesterday when the Buckeyes tied the score of the Texas team. Before the shoot-off could be started, R. W. Smoots, of Kenton left the firing line. This, under the rules, disqualified the team from going into the shoot-off and the team was given second place.

Illinois was third and New York state team No. 1, was a fourth. Following are the summaries:

Professional clay target championship of North America (200 targets).

1—Earl Donohue, Ottumwa, Ia., 200
2.—Homer Clark, East Alton, Ill., ..... 198
3.—John R Jahn, Spirit Lake, Iowa, ..... 198

Bruins Wallop Giants In Last Gotham Visit

Phils Show no Brotherly Love for Bucs, Winning 4th in Row; Browns Trim A's.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Add striking contrasts: The National League in 1928 when the clubs were closer than the next endurance flight and the fans going to sleep not knowing who would lead in the morning, and—

The National League in 1929 where, following the Cubs taking such a commanding lead, things have reached such a state of languor that yesterday a fan was forced to explode a giant firecracker to keep things alive as the Cubs whipped the Giants, 9 to 2.

It was the Chicago's last appearance here for the season and they made a neat job of leaving. They larruped three Giant pitchers, beginning with Larry Benton, for fourteen hits, two homers being included.

The Phillies continued to show little or no brotherly love for the Pirates, taking their fourth in a row from the Corsairs. Lefty O'Doul produced a home run with two on in the fourth inning when the score was tied at 6-6.

The Braves and Cincinnati divided a double-header, Boston winning the first game, 7-1, but dropping the second, 8 to 7.

Clise Dudley, the Rudy Valee of baseball, scattered six singles among the Cardinals and gave them no runs while his teammates eked out a single tally to win the ball game. Babe Herman boosted his already fat average by getting two singles in three trips to the plate. Dudley's victory came after eleven straight defeats.

Ed Wells, had it not been for his home run ball, would have turned in another win for the Yanks, but homers by Kerr and Reynolds gave the White Sox a 4 to 3 win. Byrd and Koenig accounted for two of the New York runs with homers.

The Browns made it three out of four for the series by trimming the Athletics, 7 to 5. The victory was a costly one, however, as both Manush and Schulte were badly hurt in a collision while chasing French's drive. Schulte suffered a concussion of the brain. Manush suffered a broken nose and badly split lip.

Wesley Ferrell pitched his second successive four-hit game and his fourteenth victory of the season as Cleveland turned back Washington, 3 to 1.

Uhle held Boston to five hits while his team-mates pounded Bayne and Carroll for fifteen and the Tigers swamped Boston, 13 to 2.

AT MONTREAL—Al Foreman, Canadian lightweight champion won decision over Sylvio Mireault, Montreal, in ten rounds.

INTER-CITY LEAGUE

Joe Dickey's Homer Laughlins, perilously on the edge of slipping out of the first place berth they have held this half, nosed out the Katies last night at Newell and stretched their slender margin to a game and a half over the Ohio potters.

And the Katies face another tough struggle tonight at Wellsville when they will be fighting to hold on to second place, a berth they now share with the Nicholson nine as a result of their loss last night.

The winner in tonight's battle will move up within one game of Laughlin and the West Virginians will defend their lead again on Friday night when they battle the Wellsville club.

Campolo And Scott To Fight

Victorio Takes Schmeling's Place in Bout.

By Sid Mercer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Failing to induce Max Schmeling to defer his return to Germany for a brawl with Philip Scott next month, Humbert Fugazy today is closing a match between Scott and Victorio Campolo, the altitudinous Argentianian, for September 11 at Ebbets Field.

The winner is to get Schmelling if an when the Teuton schlager returns to America, which will be late in September, according to announced plans.

Schmelling is willing to post a substantial forfeit for Scott but only in the event that his New York license will be restored and he be permitted to handle his own affairs without further annoyance from his rejected manager, Arthur Bulow.

Jimmy Johnston practically accepted the Campolo assignment for Scott today when Fugazy finally gave up hope of holding Schmelling here.

Schmelling is arranging his affairs to sail for Hamburg on the S. S. Albert Ballin next Saturday. He is straightening out his income tax obligations, and so far has not encountered any of the process servers who are said to be trailing him for Bulow.

Max's former pal, and now one of his severest critics, is said to be seeking an accounting of Schmelling's earnings in and out of the ring since he came over from the fatherland last spring to fight Paulino Uzcudun. Bulow especially insists on an accounting for Schmeling's exhibition tour. He claims one-third of the profits under a contract still in force.

Schmelling may be compelled to post a bond covering the amount of Bulow's claim before he can clear from this port.

The fighter's anxity to come to some agreement with Fugazy is due not only to his desire to reinstate himself in New York but to prevent future action that may bar him from these Golden shores on the ground that he has not fulfilled an American contract.

The outdoor boxing season will end before Herr Max comes back and, as Fugazy has no indoor arena in New York, it is possible that he may ask permission of the New York boxing commission to stage a Schmelling fight elsewhere.

The Atlantic City convention hall, seating nearly 50,000, may be available for a November battle.

"BIG GAME"

Story of a girl who thought love more powerful than society.

By Vida Hurst

"That's impossible," she retorted, laughing.

But not until later in the evening did she return to the level of their former relationship . . . Not, indeed, until after her dance with Bruce.

"If it is necessary for Dan McIntyre to make love to you," Bruce said coldly, "please don't insist on my being a witness."

"That's very unkind of you, Bruce."

"Not at all. I'd feel the same over his attentions to any one. It's sickening."

"Perhaps," suggested Mona, "it's dislike."

"Perhaps it is," Bruce agreed.

It was after that she became sweet to Dan. Openly, recklessly, sweet. . . .

In the theater, Mona, sitting between Dan and Bruce, permitted Dan to hold her hand.

She knew Bruce could see but was herself apparently unconscious of it.

Mabel, on the other side of Dan, made smothered, half-laughing, comments about the picture, but Bruce said nothing. No one would have suspected him of being with them.

When Dan, whispering to Mona, brushed his lips against her hair, she replied with little ripples of laughter.

Her attitude was enticingly, maddeningly, intimate . . . And Bruce did not speak to either of them again except to say, goodnight."

But on the way home Mona found that Dan expected her to live up to her manner. He refused to accept her laughing repulse of his advances.

"You little thing, you will kiss me" he cried and pressed his lips cruelly against hers.

"How dare you force me to kiss you?"

"I dare anything,' Dan retorted, "when a girl has tempted me as you have all evening."

"I hate you, Dan."

"You'll get over it. Understand once and for all. I don't hold up my paws and beg for any girl's love. You've been kidding me along for days. If I'm so repulsive that you can't endure my kisses you needn't be with me."

"I won't be again. No man living can kiss me unless I want him to."

"Snap out of it, darling! I've kissed you before. It hasn't always been such a shock."

Trembling with rage and humiliation, Mona rubbed her lips with a handkerchief.

She was ashamed and deeply, resentfully, conscious of the fact that she had only herself to blame. Dan had stopped his car in front of Mona's home.

"Still mad at me, sweet thing?" he whispered, leaning closer.

"Yes, I am."

"And you the grave, generous, little girl friend who would sacrifice everything to the man she loves!"

"That has nothing to do with it. I'm not in love with you."

His lips tightened.

"What's happened, Mona? A month ago you were. Someone is coming between us."

"Don't be silly," she interjected, feebly.

"I'm nobody's fool, my dear. I have eyes and with my eyes I see. I know you're in love with Bruce Berlon."

"I am not" Mona stormed "That's perfectly ridiculous."

"So that's it," Dan repeated, shaking his head. "My little dancing, butterfly caught by a married man."

"Be quiet, Dan, please! Don't even say such a thing."

"Why shouldn't I say it? I knew something was wrong with him tonight, but at first I thought he was jealous of Mabel . . ."

"No, because it wasn't until after I'd had my first dance with you. By the Gods, who'd believe you'd fall for a chap like that? What does he know about women?"

"You'd be surprised," thought Mona, but she answered coldly, "Oh, come now, aDn! Let's not have any scene merely on the strength of your supposition. Bruce and I are friends, of course!"

He interrupted, "I 've just remembered it was Bruce who caught me kissing you."

Mona knew Dan suspected every one of intrigues equal to his own. The fact that Bruce was married would be no obstacle in Dan's mind. According to his code, marriage merely added zest to the chase.

"So that's it," he said again and sighed profoundly.

"I'm being insulted and should go straight into the house," thought Mona. "I would if I were the heroine in a book. But since I'm me and human I'll stay until dawn if necessary."

She pleaded, threatened, cajoled. Promised to be "nicer" to Dan if he would put such silly ideas out of his head.

"Give me credit, darling, for not losing my head over another girl's husband."

"A lot of difference that would make to you," he retorted.

"But, Dan, I've scruples about such things even if you haven't. Besides Bruce isn't interested."

"He isn't. You can't tell me that after the way he glared at me tonight."

"Oh, well, then," Mona said, finally, "think anything you please. Why should I care about your opinion?"

"You do care, Mona?"

"Of course, I do. And your suspicions are no compliment."

"Would you be willing to prove to me," Dan suggested, slyly, "that there's nothing between you and Bruce?"

"Yes, if I could."

"Then kiss me once freely and of your own accord.'

Mona hesitated. Deciding, "Oh well, I've done it before. If this will convince him. . . ."

"Shut your eyes, then, and hands off?"

He obeyed and she stood on tiptoe pressing her lips against his cheek.

"Now, will you be good and stop thinking horrid things about me?"

For answer Dan seized her, widly.

"Mona! Be sweet to me, please!"

"I have been sweet to you."

"Not for a long time. I love you, Mona. Oh, how I love you."

With difficulty she freed herself and ran into the house. Crying hysterically as she climbed the stairs. But, as usual, there was no o. to see. No mother to steal anxiously into her room. No father. . . . .

For a long time after she had gone to bed, Mona lay shivering and ashamed. Dan's lovemaking had been frightening and unrestrained. Unlike his former bantering tenderness. . . .

And she was to blame. Because in her unreasoning jealousy and anger with Bruce, she had deliberately led Dan on.

At 10 o'clock in the morning Bruce was telephoning.

"Are you all right, Mona?

"Yes, I am. Why?

"I was worried about you last night. You don't sound very happy. Are you sure nothing's wrong?"

"Of course, Bruce! I am sorry I said what I did."

"It's all right, dear. I understand. I'm sorry, too."

More assurances Necessary to heal the aching wounds their conduct the night before had caused yet Mona left the telephone feeling soothed and comforted.

The knowledge that matters were adjusted between them gave her real enthusiasm for the Hallowe'en party, which Ruth called to remind her was Monday night.

"What has Mabel decided about Dan?" Ruth inquired, anxiously.

Neither of them was able to find out until Monday when Mabel telephoned. "I've a notion to call the party off. It looks like it's going to storm anyway. And I'm mad at Bruce. He absolutely refuses to have Dan McIntyre."

"Ruth can't go if you have him, Mabel."

"She can if she wants to. The worst of it is I told Dan to save the date. . . ."

"But, Mabel, I told you not to mention it until you were sure."

"I thought I was," Mabel wailed. "Well, it will be a jolly evening with Bruce and me not even speaking. . . ."

Mona said, calmly, "Patch up your marital differences long enough to have the party."

"Nothing doing! I'm tired smiling like a Cheshire cat to fool the public."

True to her promise, Mabel ignored her husband when the "crowd" gathered to start for the lake.

"I'll ride with Jim and Ruth in Johnnie's car," she dictated. "Mona can ride with Bruce. . . ."

"But, Mabel," Bruce protested . "Or you can ride alone," snapped his wife.

Bruce's face whitened ominiously, but before he could speak Mona was at his side.

"Never mind," she cried, "I'll ride with you, darling."

It was raining. Swollen smoke-colored clouds rolled up from the west.

"Think we can make it?" Mona asked, matter-of-factly.

They had been driving for some time but Bruce had not spoken. His pride—that most precious of masculine possessions—had been sorely wounded.

"If Mabel starts insulting me publicly I'm thru," he thought.

His face was so bitter that Mona made no attempt at conversation. She would give the poor darling time. She, too, was furious with Mabel, but, after all, the quarrel had its compensations.

For otherwise Mona could not have been riding with him.

Even if he didn't seem to appreciate that fact as yet, he would. Give him time . . .

She cuddled down into the seat beside him.

Waiting until his frowning brows relaxed before she put her question.

"We can make it," Bruce replied "but we should have started sooner. Look at those clouds."

"Yes, it's going to storm."

"Let it," he returned, temperamentally. "I hope it does storm."

"Oh, darling!"

Mona laid her hand lightly above his on the wheel and he turned to smile at her.

"Sorry, Mona! I'm pretty much upset. . . ."

"I know," she said.

They stopped on the outskirts of St. Paul for gasoline and the other car passed with much honking of the horn and waving of the hands.

"Sure you know the way?" called Johnnie.

Bruce nodded.

"You've been there, haven't you, Mona?"

"Lots of times. You turn at the interurban station and follow a road up the side of the hill."

"Not very defniite," Bruce smiled, "but I guess we can find it."

Riding over the swiftly darkening roads, Mona thought she wouldn't care if they did miss the party so long as they were together.

The rain was coming in torrents now. They were compelled to close the windows and the wind made steering difficult.

"Don't you love it?" breathed Mona. "It's a wonderful night for ghosts and witches."

"I'd like it better if it had waited another hour. A dirt road will be hard to travel."

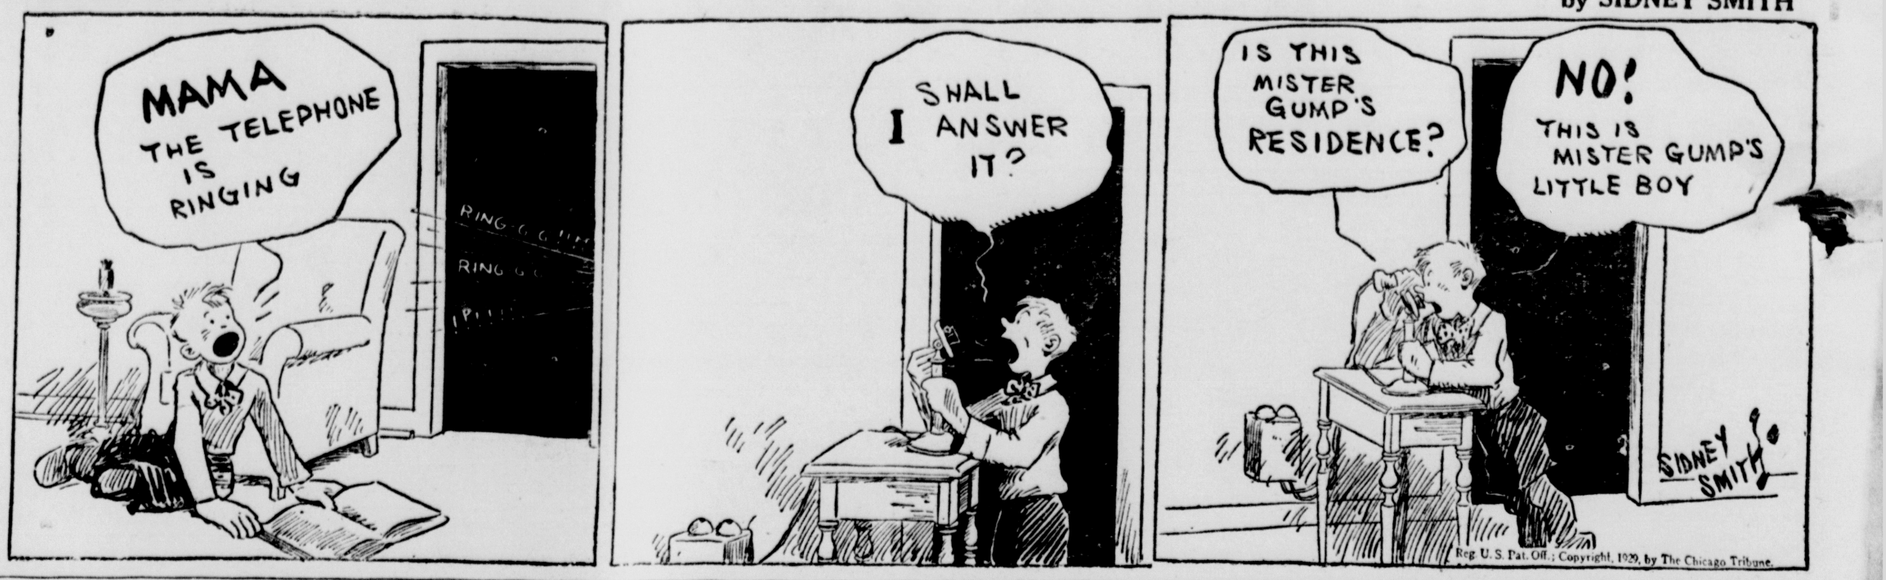

"Not worried are you?"

"Not in the least. Only your life might be safer if I were a better driver."

NEW HEAVEN DISCUSSED BY OLIVET PASTOR

Rev. Heslop in Pulpit At Nazarene Church.

LARGE CROWD

Evangelist's Wife to Speak at Sunday Service.

"A new heaven, a new earth, a new city, a new temple, a new hell, a new bride and a new nation are the seven new things mentioned in the twenty-first chapter of Revelations" asserted the Rev. William Heslop, theological professor of Olivet college, Olivet, Ill., at the First Nazarene church on St. Clair avenue last evening. A large number of people heard him. He will speak this evening.

Accompanying him is Mrs. Heslop. They have twice been on trips around the world. It was announced that she would supplement her husband's addresses during his present engagement here by one herself on Sunday afternoon on her missionary impressions gained in her wide travels to various sections of the globe.

"The Hebrew word Sheol, the Greek word Hades and the English word Hell refer to the unseen place, the unseen abode of the dead" the Rev. Dr. Heslop declared. "When Christ died He descended into Sheol or Hades or Hell and took out the righteous dead and set up Paradise above. He led captivity captive and gave gifts to men.

"In the Old Testament both sinners and saints went down when they died. Only Moses, Enoch and Elijah went up to heaven. The latter was caught up and Elijah was taken up and Moses, having died, was resurrected and taken to heaven three thousand years before his time.

"The new bride is the bride of the Lamb. The bridehood saints are composed of men and women who have been justified freely by God's grace and sanctified wholly by God's power and who walks in every ray of light that is shed across their pathway suffering, serving, and sacrificing for the cause of Christ.

"The new nations will live upon the new earth and paradise lost in the fall will be restored through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus."

GEORGE ADE STORY AT THE CERAMIC

Scene from "MAKING THE GRADE" Fox Picture featuring Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran

George Ade's hilarious version of the lion and the mouse theme, "Making the Grade," has been brought to the screen for Fox films under the direction of Alfred Green with Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran in the stellar roles, at the Ceramic theater three days, starting today.

STOMACH TROUBLE?

"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" AND "TOO MUCH ACID" CAUSE 9 OUT OF EVERY 10 ATTACKS

"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" (failure to digest starches), causes more than one-half the cases of stomach trouble. Because of this deficiency, potatoes, breads, macaroni, rice, breakfast cereals and other starchy foods remain in a semi-solid condition and refuse to move on as they should. This stoppage causes INDIGESTION, GAS, FERMENTATION, SOURNESS, SICK HEADACHE and other common troubles.
"TOO MUCH ACID" is the cause of almost all the remaining half of our stomach troubles. It also is the result of fermentation and excess digestive acids.
ACIDINE, the new discovery, is a perfect anti-acid combined with "Japtase," the most effective known starch digestant, one pound of which will digest more than 800 pounds of starchy foods.
ACIDINE is the FIRST COMPLETE REMEDY for STOMACH TROUBLE—an ANTI-ACID, STARCH DIGESTANT, MEAT DIGESTANT. At the same time it is safe and soothing to the most sensitive stomach. Slightly laxative but not unpleasantly so.

BEGAN TRADE OF PRINTER 60 YEARS AGO

E. B. Bradshaw Began Work in Broadway Building.

TRAVELS WIDELY

Father Published Democratic Weekly From 1869 to 1876.

Eugene B. Bradshaw, who recently completed his 60th year at the printer's trade, has returned to East Liverpool after a 7,000-mile automobile jaunt which he and two other men, Chicago school teachers, made through the west, northwest and Mexico.

Bradshaw at the age of 13, took up the trade of a printer in April 1869, when his father, the late Enoch B. Bradshaw, established the East Liverpool Democrat, a weekly paper, in what was then known as Bradshaw's hall in Broadway, on the present site of the Standard Oil company's filling station. The elder Bradshaw published his paper with equipment which had been used by the East Liverpool Local, which had suspended publication after three or four issues in the old First National Bank building at the foot of Broadway.

Bradshaw worked for his father for about seven years when the Democrat was acquired by his brother, T. R. Bradshaw and J. H. Simms who moved the plant to the second floor of the building occupied by the postoffice in Second street. The name of the paper was then changed to the Weekly Tribune, which was published until 1900 when The Morning Tribune made its appearance. Bradshaw continued to work on the paper for a short time after it changed hands.

During the last 50 years Bradshaw has worked at the printers trade from Canada to Mexico, from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic. He has worked in plants of small weekly newspapers and also in some of the large metropolitan dailies. He worked at Spray, Ore., on the John Day river, in 1898 where the paper was brought overland 50 miles from the nearest railroad station and printed on one of the old army style presses.

Bradshaw worked in the composing room of the East Liverpool Review for a short time last April. He afterwards recalled that it was in the same block that the East Liverpool Publishing company's building is located where he began his work at the printer's trade just 60 years previously.
